HERITAGE TRUST ANNUAL REPORTS -- 1987THE PRESIDENT'S REPORT

My first wish is to thank all members of the Heritage Trust for their interest in the various aspects of our activities. Without membership interest and active support, the Trust could not function. I want particularly to thank the hard-working members of the Executive and the Board, and the Committee chairmen and their committees. All have given much time and skill to the Trust. You will read of their activities in the individual reports. Audrey Crawford our Executive Secretary, has given freely of her time and ever-increasing expertise to the running of the office, and to the entire organization. She has been especially helpful to me, as a new President, and has made my task much easier and more enjoyable.

We are, unfortunately, losing our Secretary, Edith Clare to whom we all owe thanks for her faithful and conscientious fulfillment of her duties. Pamela Collins is stepping aside as Program Chairman. Over the years Pamela has given us many entertaining and informative programs and tours. The interest of many members is sustained by the programs she has provided, which bind together groups within the Trust who have diverse interests and might not otherwise be involved with our activities. She has been a key person in the organization for years and has contributed enormously to our well-being. Pamela received the Dr. Phyllis R. Blakeley Award for Lifetime Achievement in the Heritage field. This was given by the Federation of Nova Scotia Heritage at their Annual Dinner in 1986. Lew Billard, Joan Harrison, Ralph Pepper and Don Crowdis are retiring Board members, and I should like to thank them for their contributions while they were on the Board.

The Heritage Trust has had an interesting and sometimes overly exciting year. The former refers to extension of our contacts with groups and areas outside Halifax, and the latter to the meetings and decisions involved in the handling of the Macdonald property in Windsor.

The Trust has, during the year, been asked to advise or to support various groups in the Province. I am particularly pleased at this since our title is the Heritage Trust of Nova Scotia, and these opportunities help us to fulfill our mandate. We have been asked to support requests for the designation of the Annapolis River as a Canadian Heritage River; for the Designation of the DeWolf House in Liverpool as a Provincial Heritage Property; and we have brought the Rundle House of Stellarton to the attention of the Nova Scotia Museum and to the Heritage Office, Department of Culture, Recreation and Fitness. We had the pleasure of visiting the Université Ste. Anne at Church Point on one of our summer tours, and were later able to make a grant to the Societé Historique Acadienne de la Baie Sainte-Marie to aid in restoration work as a memorial to Fr. Sigogne.

The Trust has supported in principle Dr. Frank Eppell's proposals to institute a Master's Degree for architects in conservation and restoration architecture, and in heritage legislation to be offered at the Technical University of Nova Scotia. There would also be lectures for the general public. This seems like a valuable contribution to heritage serving to train architects, a key group in preservation, and to inform the public whose support and interest are crucial to our success in the preservation of our built heritage.

A different approach to promoting public interest in heritage buildings was made by Musique Royale, a group of classically-trained musicians, several from Nova Scotia, who put on a series of concerts during the summer in several towns of Nova Scotia. All concerts were presented in heritage buildings, thus giving the public a pleasant experience which will be associated with these buildings. The Trust sponsored the introductory concert held in the Red Chamber of Province House in Halifax.

We were able to give financial support to a sister-organization, the Federation of Nova Scotia Heritage, which suffered drastic cuts in their funding. They serve a very useful training and networking function among heritage and museum groups in the Province.

A project which has taken up a great deal of time and effort is the attempt to find a successful use for the Macdonald property in Windsor which was left to the Trust in 1976. A committee in Windsor, the "Friends of Richmond Hill Farm" chaired by Mrs. Veronica Connelly, President of the West Hants Historical Society, has been very helpful in caring for the house during the period when it was empty, renting it, and collecting and presenting two proposals for the use of the property. You have received the details of the initial proposals by Professor Frank Eppells and TUNS, and by Penelope and Colin Taylor of Windsor. Dr. Fred Matthews deserves our thanks for acting as liaison between the Trust and the Windsor group. He has put a great deal of time and effort into this duty. It is my sincere hope that a satisfactory solution to the ultimate use of this property can be reached in the near future.

It is gratifying to see interest in heritage expanding each year, with new groups being formed to deal with problems as they arise. It is exciting to be able to take part in some of the various activities associated with the preservation of our heritage, whether it be built, natural or cultural. I hope that this trend can continue and that we may truly be the Heritage Trust of Nova Scotia.

Lucille Stewart

At the time of this report there were accounts not under the direct control of the treasurer. These were used for expenses connected with the MacDonald House and office expenses. Totals of expenditures are reflected in the above but not the day to day details of these accounts. Action has been taken to bring these accounts under closer control.

The main revenue in connection with the MacDonald House was $4519.52 in rent. In connection with the office account $5051.66 was spent through that account. About $4100 of this was salary and salary expense related. Communications expenses accounted for another $900 dollars.

These accounts do not reflect any monies from the Colpits' Estate as they were not under the control of the trust during the fiscal year. However this bequest amounted to a book value of $64209.28 of which about $30000 was in high quality shares and securities and the remainder in government bonds or bonds and certificates issued by bank and trust companies.

PROJECT COMMITTEE REPORT

During this term the Project Committee embarked on a public awareness programme to encourage the homeowners in proper restoration or renovation methods. As a first phase, an exhibit was created to identify Georgian and Victorian styles and some of the right and wrong ways to repair doors, dormers, porches, etc. The easily portable "Heritage Starts at Home" exhibit consists of three large-scale panels and is currently on display at three local shopping malls (i.e., Scotia Square, Penhorn and Sunnyside). The Committee hopes to follow the exhibit with a series of informative articles on the same theme.

Recently the Committee applied for funding under the Provincial Employment Program to hire researchers for three 13-week summer projects. The projects are:

- 1) to identify conservation areas;
- 2) to study the use of sites which may contain significant archaeological artifacts; and
- 3) to continue researching the historical and architectural importance of pre-1914 buildings.

The information gained from these projects is to be shared with the City of Halifax, the provincial Heritage Unit and the Nova Scotia Museum. The provincial government approved funding for one researcher to carry out work on any one of the projects or a combination of the projects. Work is scheduled to begin on May 25, 1987.

I would like to thank the committee members for their co-operation, creative work and enthusiasm.

PUBLICATIONS COMMITTEE REPORT

We have been working towards two new publications: Seasoned Timbers, Vol.III, and an updating of Founded Upon A Rock.

Committee members have met twice in Truro at the Colchester Historical Museum with staff from that Museum and from Cumberland Historical Museum and with other individuals interested in historical buildings. It was decided that the area to be covered in Seasoned Timbers, Vol.III, would include Cumberland, Colchester and East Hants Counties, and the Musquodoboit Valley. We hope to feature buildings of historical and architectural significance. Exteriors and Interiors of these buildings will be shown.

The new publication of Founded Upon a Rock will include buildings in Halifax, Dartmouth and Bedford. Several locations and/or buildings not in its first book have been suggested. We feel that it would be appropriate to dedicate this book in Phyllis Blakeley's memory.

Several committee members were pleased to prepare 20 questions re: each of several of our Halifax Trust books considered to be suitable by Pam Collins. These questions were asked on radio stations in conjunction with Heritage Day.

My sincere thanks to the members of the Committee: Shirley Elliott, Karen Smith, John MacLeod, Philip Hartling, Pauline Hildesheim, Prof. M. Brook Taylor, Arthur Carter and Ellen Webster for their interest and work on behalf of publications for Heritage Trust. As well, Fred Matthews, Margaret Martin and Gary Shutlak have served on the sub-committee for Founded Upon a Rock.

Margaret Ross - Chairman
Publication Committee.

The Heritage Trust Annual Dinner was held on Saturday, November 15, in the Bluenose Room, at Chateau Halifax. Entertainment was provided by Whitley and DeWolf.

To celebrate Heritage Day on February 16, Howard Donahue of the Dept. of Mines and Energy, led a morning walking tour of Downtown Halifax from the Grand Parade and ending at Historic Properties for a Chowder Lunch.

During the Halifax visit of the Hon. Desmond Guinness of the Irish Georgian Society, Heritage Trust presented a public lecture on Irish Houses and Castles, on March 16, in TUNS School of Architecture. The evening concluded with a Reception to honour Dr. Guinness and guests, at the Cambridge Military Library.

To close the Trust's activities for the year, the Annual General Meeting was held on June 25, postponed from June 18, at the regular third Thursday time.

I would like to take this opportunity to express our thanks to the N.S. Museum for allowing us to hold our meetings there and to our secretary Audrey Crawford for getting the monthly public service announcements out, and to local radio, television and newspapers.

HERITAGE RESOURCES COMMITTEEREPORT

Last year, I requested brochures or catalogues from forty companies which have some connection with restoration, renovation, or decorating supplies. I received replies from twenty-two businesses. The products include paint colours, wooden columns, fretwork and mouldings for Victorian houses, interior lighting fixtures and exterior light posts, reproduction furniture, nails and curtains. These brochures and catalogues have been numbered and are kept in the Heritage Trust Collection (MG 30, Series "V", Volume 1, #1-61) at the Public Archives of Nova Scotia, 6016 University Avenue, Halifax. The list was printed in the March 1987 issue of The Griffin.

The publications lists by the National Trust, England, and the National Trust for Scotland were obtained. Scotland also enclosed a number of brochures on historic properties and the pamphlet Conserve and Provide: a brief history of the National Trust for Scotland. These items are in the Heritage Trust collection MG 30, Series "T", Volume 2, #24-32.)

Throughout the year, I constantly added material to the Heritage Trust collection. The material included minutes of the Executive and Board's meetings, The Griffin, and miscellaneous pamphlets and brochures.

DR. PHYLLIS R. BLAKELEY MEMORIAL FUND COMMITTEE REPORT

A Committee to establish a fund to honour the memory of Dr. Phyllis R. Blakeley was appointed at the meeting of the Board of Heritage Trust held on November 1, 1986.

The Committee: Betty Pacey, John MacLeod and Maud Godfrey has held two meetings at the Public Archives of Nova Scotia, attended also by Lucille Stewart, President of the Trust. The second meeting was attended by Mrs. Wendy Duff, Archives Librarian and Mr. Carman Carroll, Provincial Archivist.

The Committee proposed that Heritage Trust establish a fund to be named the Dr. Phyllis R. Blakeley Memorial Fund and invite contributions from individuals and organizations wishing to honour Dr. Blakeley's memory, the money to be invested in a separate special account the interest from which would be used to purchase annually for the Public Archives of Nova Scotia research materials in line with Dr. Blakeley's known interests, which could not be afforded within the Archives' regular budget.

The creation of this Fund was announced in the November 1986 issue of the Griffin. The President wrote a letter regarding the Fund which was sent to heritage and historical associations within Nova Scotia. Mr. Carroll suggested that because of the deep respect with which Dr. Blakeley's work was regarded throughout Canada that the Archives would like to advise Canadian Archival Associations of the Fund. The Committee welcomed this proposal. A brief acknowledgement was written to be sent to contributors with their tax deductible receipts.

The Committee suggested ideas for a suitable bookplate to identify materials purchased by the Fund and this was forwarded to Dr. Robert Dawson who had agreed to design a bookplate. The Board of Heritage Trust agreed to pay the cost of printing the bookplate.

Response to the creation of the Fund has been very gratifying. Many contributions have been accompanied by expressions of appreciation of Dr. Blakeley's outstanding contributions to historical scholarship, her unique personality, and her generous encouragement of all work related to the history of her beloved province.

Maud Godfrey - Chairman
